Leah Ann Cevoli releases "Amicably Ever-After (The Year I Grew Up)"

A new book of poetry, "Amicably Ever- After (The Year I Grew Up) " by author Leah Ann Cevoli, has been released. The book focuses on a mini collection of poetry Cevoli describes as "A love affair gone painfully wrong, yet through all things we find growth ".

Cevoli is a featured author with 3 poems in the 2007 release "Hellos and Goodbyes" and was a writing coordinator for Screen Actors Guild Foundation's "We The Children" Autobiography Project.

As an actress, On-Camera and Voice-Over, she has recurring and regular roles on such high profile television shows as, HBO's " Deadwood", and Cartoon Network's " Robot Chicken".

Cevoli graduated from West Chester University of Pennsylvania in 1996. She currently is a freelance writer for BuzzNet.Com, RockScene.com and the host and producer of Acoustic Angels, a monthly eclectic evening with musicians, poets, comics, fashion shows and more.
